

Hello, Everyone!

Mic Barnette, began researching his own family when he was 12 years old and has been working in the Genealogy Department of the Dallas Public Library since 2006 and teaching Genealogy at the Brookhaven Campus of Dallas College since 2008.

Beginning August 24 he will teaching an 8 week weekly ONLINE Genealogy Class through Dallas College!

If you are new to genealogy you may be interested in this class or if you have been at it for a while you may want a refresher course. OR, you may know someone who would benefit from the course.

Whatever the case, Mic will be teaching a Part I four week class followed by a Part II second four week class.

The class will be taught entirely Online. So, one will need a computer, an internet connection, have proper internet surfing attire and whoever takes the class will need to be over the age of 55.

Each week a different topic will be covered. Mic will talk about why the various records were created, why you would want use the record and where to find them.

References to records already in online free and subscription databases or in courthouses, libraries and archives across the nation will be discussed and where one might be able to access them.

All classes will be online (only) Each Wednesday 1:30 pm to 4:50 pm

Part 1 (Weeks 1-4) August 24 through September 14

Part II (Weeks 5-8) September 21 through October 12
