Why did I use YDNA for this research project in 2004?

- 1) YDNA was available in 2004 at $150 for 12 markers – now 111 markers & costs $199 on sale
- 2) My dad began his search in 1979
- 3) Find his great grandfather - William
- 4) Men more easily tracked by census, wills, jury lists, estate settlements, military/tax records
- 5) Autosomal available c2007, I ignored as I knew based on dad's research 4/5 generations - 1833
- 6) Put Yourself out there...

<https://gap.familytreedna.com/>

Things I learned from this YDNA research project?

- 1) YDNA passes from father to son virtually unchanged for 3 centuries or more ... Surname switches
- 2) Most Youngblood genealogical books available were wrong before 1850 . Some DAR YB records are wrong.
- 3) 12 markers was NOT enough to prove our family branches – 37 Proved enough for our family branches – 3 Peter Youngbloods
- 4) Cousins found they were not cousins and vice versa – Adopted or NPE. My Adopted Cousin is a cousin.
- 5) What about my father?

Autosomal DNA Ancestry, Family Finder, 23&me?

- 1) Test results are for all "23" Chromosomes
- 2) Shared DNA reduces ~50 percent each generation, thus generation 3 will have 25% of Gen 1.

And so on

<https://gap.familytreedna.com/>

Why would I then want to add the complexities of Autosomal DNA tests and analysis into the project?

Centimorgans, Stacks, Shares, Clusters,
Groupings, Triangulation, segments,
Chromosome browsers, GEDmatch DNA Tree building,
DNA Painter, Thru lines et al,

Can I prove my grandmother IS the mother of my father?

I am really not here to teach DNA

<https://gap.familytreedna.com/>

Not much for me to work with... But enough !

My father was an only child and of course no DNA test...nor my mother who had one brother.

My grandmother had 1 sister who had no children

My Grandmother's brother's daughter did test.

What did we learn?

- 1) YDNA is a great starting point, not always enough for proof
- 2) AtDNA - Ancestry/Family Finder is more difficult in detail and not always enough
- 3) They do work together
- 4) Put yourself out there
